

PCPLD Network

Palliative Care for People with Learning Disabilities

THE LINDA McENHILL AWARD 2023

Information about nominations

Closing date: 10th November 2023

Have you, or anyone you know, made a positive difference to the end-of-life or bereavement support of people with learning disabilities? If so, why not consider putting them forward for recognition through the Linda McEnhill Award?

You can nominate any work, project, organisation, team or individual effort to support people with learning disabilities around death and dying.

Nomination categories

You can submit nominations under any of the following categories.

1. Providing outstanding end-of-life care support

An organisation, team, professional or carer(s) who have provided outstanding support for a person with learning disabilities who died or is currently at the end of life.

2. Innovation/ Service Development

The most innovative or promising project set up to improve end of life care or bereavement support for people with learning disabilities.

3. Unsung Hero

A staff member, professional, student, carer or other, who has championed the end of life and bereavement support needs of people with learning disabilities, and is inspiring others. This category cannot be a self nomination

Nominations close on 10th November 2023. Awards will be presented at the Conference in the autumn of 2024 – date to be confirmed.

Nomination forms can be downloaded here:

Nomination Form

Easy Read

Shortlisted nominations will be notified by email, and will be offered places at the 2024 Conference at the Early Bird Rate. Winners will be announced during the 2024 Conference.

Shortlisted nominees will be invited to send in a short Video about their work which will be shown at the Conference in 2024.

Award winners will receive a special certificate and get the opportunity to share their story or achievement through the PCPLD Network, they will also receive a free place at the next PCPLD Conference.